Goal Of Eliminating Dark Areas; Most For
Midpoint Of Blocks

Installation of 52 additional street lights to eliminate remaining dark areas in Venice was voted Friday night by the city council. Most will be located in the middle of residential blocks. The lights are to be installed by the Illinois Power Co., with the power costs to be charged to the city according to its franchise with the firm, City Attorney Harry E. Hartman explained. He estimated that the project will nearly double the number of street lights in Venice.

Action taken Friday night will affect Broadway lighting, but the city also is seeking improved illumination along that street. In other business, the aldermen ordered demolition of unoccupied dwellings on Main street and 215 Ashbrook street, ruling that their condition constitutes a public safety hazard.

Flood Wall Easement

The council granted an easement to the city of St. Louis to construct a flood wall and levee across Missouri property acquired by the city of Venice in its purchase of the McKinley Bridge.

The agreement specifies that Venice will have access to the riverfront area for bridge maintenance, repair and construction work over a 16-foot roadway provided by St. Louis. The roadway must bear a 10-ton load if necessary.

Bridge improvement payments authorized Friday night amounted to $68,744 as the eighth installment for general work done by the Whiting-Turner Construction Co. of Baltimore, Md., as the twelfth payment for engineering services by the Harlan and Hanover Engineering Co., New York City; and $100 to Attorney Hartman for legal work performed in October.

The council appropriated $238 in additional motor fuel tax funds required in resurfacing Brown, McKinley, Jackson and Selb streets. Sheppard, Morgan and Schwab was paid $156 for engineering services on the same project.

Start Blackout Work
Mayor John D. Lee reported the start of blackout paying Friday on Main street and the Venice approach to the McKinley Bridge.

City Comptroller Carl E. Byrnes announced that the city has received $117 from the Illinois Municipal League as a two percent fee from insurance firms on fire insurance policies in effect in Venice. The league is to be refunded $78 for handling costs.

St. John Essington, juvenile officer of the Venice police department, submitted a report showing 49 juveniles committed between Feb. 15 and Nov. 15. A report reviewed disposition of the cases.

First Part of Madison Drainage Work Begins

Work has started on the first phase of the large Madison stormwater drainage program, it was announced today. The initial work consists of installation of a seven-foot drainage line through North Venice to a pumping station site near the river.

Excavation work has been started by the Armco Drainage and Metal Products firm of South Bend, Ind., which will handle extension of the line under the railroad tracks running between Klein street and the county road in Venice.

It is serving as a sub-contractor for the General Contracting Co., which is handling work on the largest-diameter pipe under a contract with The East Side Levee and Sanitary district. The line will decrease in size as it proceeds through Madison.

In return for federal construction of the pumping station, the Engineer Dept. will be permitted to connect onto the trunk line, and sections of North Venice also will be aided by the project. The city of Madison will share in the cost of other portions of the work, which will include a line down Washington avenue in Madison.

Blaze Damages Fahnster Firm At 9:30 A. M. Today

A faulty oil furnace igniter apparently caused a fire at the Fahnster Tire and Supply Co., 2800 Nameoki road, this morning. No estimate of the loss was available but it is expected to total several thousand dollars. Nameoki street firemen answered the alarm at 9:30 a.m. and were on the scene about an hour before the blaze, which swept through overhead duct work, was extinguished.

Owner Fred Fahnster said the furnace igniter apparently failed to function during the night. Oil was standing in puddles on the floor when employees arrived at work this morning. All visible traces of the fuel over the McKinley Bridge.

Two Venice police driving west on Broadway in a squad car heard the broadcast and simultaneously saw the car moving east on Broadway at McKinley avenue.

Making a U-turn and pursuing the auto over the Broadway viaduct, the Venice officers radioed ahead to a Madison police car which happened to be at Fourth street and Madison avenue.

The two patrol vehicles closed in on the fleeing auto and halted it at the Madison avenue alley between Third and Fourth streets. The four officers then took the two occupants to the nearby Madison police station.

Starch Co. Strike Enters Fourth Day

No Further Meetings
Scheduled; McBride Tc
Confer At Main Office

A strike by 400 workers of Union Starch & Refining Co. plant enters its fourth day this afternoon, after a meeting last Thursday evening between officials of the company and a district director for the O. I. Chemical & Atomic Workers local 7-643 failed to settle disagreements over a new contract.

The strike began on schedule at 5 p.m. last Thursday following a 72-hour notice, and no new negotiating sessions are pending. John McBride, 18th street and 20th street, is leaving today for the firm's headquarters at Columbus, Ind.

Russell Godwin, president of the union, said a strike began at 5 p.m. last Thursday following a 72-hour notice, and no new negotiating sessions are pending. John McBride, 18th street and 20th street, is leaving today for the firm's headquarters at Columbus, Ind.

Before leaving for Columbus this morning, McBride told Press-Record that letters had been sent to all plant employees advising them of the company's position. He added that the 30-day provision for a 30-day hospital insurance program for retired employees, a provision which is being included in new contract, is at other contract provisions for employees who retire after the contract is signed.

Length of Contract
Godwin said the union seeks a one-year contract to replace the current contract, which expired last July. He said there is no dispute over the cost, across-the-board hourly wage increase offered by the company but rather the dispute is over the length of the contract, procedures for handling arbitration and grievance, and the company testing program.

In his letter to employees, McBride said, "The strike is continuing with no apparent settlement in sight. This strike is the result of failure of negotiations that have been in progress for several weeks. The issues causing the continuation of this strike are of two counts. The monetary issues, and the non-monetary issues."

"The company has offered the union a new contract, a settlement, amounting to $25 a week, effective July 1, 1960. This is the same amount that the committee feels is fair."

"This is the same amount that Corn Products Co. settled its wage negotiations with the union."

"We do not seem to be far apart on the money items, but we are apart on the non-money items."

"These include, the company's plan to eliminate, retroactive pay to Aug. 8, 1960, to an employee for the classification of the company testing program."

'Rummaging' Around For Trip Expenses

Next spring and New Orleans are alike far distant, but on Saturday, Venice high school seniors planned a trip to the Crescent City on the Mississippi river.

They held a rummage sale at the Venice fire station to raise funds for the springtime trip. About 20 seniors will go, and the rummage sale was but one of the activities engineered by the students to pay their way to New Orleans.

Rummage sale goods, including hats, shoes, many items of women's wearing apparel, household utensils and dishes were donated by parents and friends.

Over $300,000 In Christmas Savings Sent Out By Banks

Christmas, Club savings in excess of $300,000 have gone out from Granite City banks and savings and loan associations as the financial institutions armed members with pre-holiday gift shopping money.

Three banks and two savings and loan organizations operated Christmas savings clubs during the year and with all checks in the mail by today, more than 3300 clubbers have received their "Yuletide dividends."

Comparisons as to other years' totals are difficult, since all banks did not report on amounts distributed.

However, financiers appeared in agreement the '50 savings set a new record.

Last week, the First Granite City National Bank distributed $97,672 of its 1168 Christmas Club depositors, and immediately began recruiting for the '51 Christmas Club.

Charles L. Gavins, first vice-president, is in charge of the bank's Christmas savings. He described as "very good," the figures on membership and savings.

At the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, Barry Loman, vice-president, said that the institution's 1174 Christmas '50 savers received a total of $160,730.

This swells the Edison avenue bank's 43-year total Christmas savings to a whopping $2,270,826.75.

"A total of 34,629 members have been enrolled in our Christmas savings groups since we pioneered in this type of holiday money saving back 43 years ago," he disclosed.

Loman said that gains were scored alike in membership and in total yearly savings annually. Members are now being enrolled in the '51 club.

Further swelling the all-over total was the $24,000 saved by the 220 members of the First Granite City Savings and Loan's year-long savings club.

Today, the Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association placed $3000 in 50 club members checks in the mail.

Not included in the total is that chalked up by Christmas clubbers at the American National Bank of Granite City. It is closing its books on its first year's Christmas Club and preparing to make of its '51 Christmas Savings Club another highly successful project.

Yule 'Tree of Lights' To Shine Forth On Dec. 3

The Salvation Army's '60 Yuletide "Tree of Lights" as a colorful downtown Christmas ornamentation and as a beacon symbol for giving to the needy and underprivileged, will go up in tinelled and spangled array on Saturday, Dec. 3.

The 20-foot tree, with its strands of lights, will be set up at the Netherland avenue and 20th street triangle of the post office grounds.

The first lights will go on at 2 p.m. a week from next Saturday. Subsequently, with each $25 donated by an individual, club, organization or group, additional lights will be turned on until the tree is fully lighted and $4500 is raised.

Names of contributors will go on a bulletin board near the "Tree of Lights."

Holiday Fund Program

The "Tree of Lights" is an arm of the Christmas fund-raising program promoted by the Salvation Army.

The sources of revenue for Christmas baskets and gifts for Quad-Cities needy and neglected come from Christmas appeal letters to groups and individuals, and the Salvation Army's well-known kettles and donation-seeking bell ringers.

Capt. Mildred Walker of the Army corps here explained that the tree is already been contributed to the "Tree of Lights" fund. This will allow the turning on of something like 18 lights as soon as the tree goes up.

"It operates," she added, "with each additional $25 gift, another light blazes and we hope this year to raise $4500."

"All proceeds go for the purchase of Christmas baskets for the needy, deserving and underprivileged in the Quad-Cities, along with Christmas presents for the kiddies of families in want."

Bell-Ringer Volunteers

The downtown solicitation of the Christmas baskets will begin next Saturday, with the kettles manned by bell-ringing solicitors members of the First Baptist Church, 215 E. 12th St. club.

Green booths will be set on the sidewalk at the bellringers' stations, Capt. Walker said today she is considering placing one of the booths at the Bellemore Village Shopping center.

According to her calendar, Friday evening and all day Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3—Utilities Workers Union of America Local No. 405; Saturday, Dec. 11—members of Moose Lodge 212.

Will Take Applications

The Salvation Army captain said that beginning Monday, Nov. 28 and continuing through Dec. 13, applications for Christmas baskets will be taken at the Christmas Cheer headquarters at 1224 State street.

Capt. Walker was emphatic in pointing out that no applications for baskets will be accepted through the mail, by phone or by depositing the request in one of the Christmas kettles.

"All applications must be made in person," she explained.

Capt. Walker will be at the Venice city hall from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 6, and during the same hours on Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 7 and 8, applications for baskets will be taken at the Madison city hall.

Basket applications may be made at either of the city halls by coming in person, or at the Christmas Cheer headquarters she said.

Thwaitt Pleads Innocent, Hearing Set Nov. 29

A hearing is scheduled for Nov. 29 for Terry Thwaitt, 32, of Rural Route One, who pleaded not guilty last week to three charges filed on a state warrant by Mildred Muzzarelli, proprietress of Mickey & Miller's tavern, 1800 State street.

Thwaitt, an ex-convict who lives on Chouteau Slough road, was booked at Granite City police headquarters by Deputy Sheriff William Thompson.

The warrant, which resulted from Mrs. Muzzarelli's refusal to sell Thwaitt a drink at the tavern, charged him with assault, disorderly conduct and carrying a weapon, a gun.

Thwaitt pleaded innocent before Police Magistrate Gasparovic and was freed on $600 property bond.

Girl Scout Re-Grouping Plans; Gold Ribbons For Leaders

Plans for age-level regrouping of Girl Scouts units are under consideration by district, state and national leaders, Mrs. Roselle Henderson, first vice-president of the Tri-City Girl Scouts Council said today.

A delegate to last week's national convention at St. Louis, Mrs. Henderson said the Girl Scouts are now organized at Brownies, as Intermediates and as Senior Scouts.

Under the proposal, there would be four divisions, that is, groups for girls 7 and 8; a second group for 9, 10 and 11-year-olds; a third for those 12, 13 and 14, and a senior club of girls from 15 to 17.

Seek Names

Mrs. Henderson said that the national council wants suggestions for names for the three older level groups. The Brownies identification will remain for the beginner Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Henderson likewise told of proposals to strengthen an upper-age unit of young women from 18 to 21.

Four delegates, a like number of alternates, some 20 adult visitors and eight Girl Scouts represented the Quad-Cities at the national meet.

Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, Libertyville, Ill., was re-elected national president, and Mrs. Holton R. Price Jr., Ladue, Mo., was named fourth vice-president.

Trans-Atlantic Hookup

Mrs. Henderson, particularly interesting and spectacular was the trans-Atlantic radio-telephone hook-up that brought into the Kiel auditorium the voice of Lady Robert Baden-Powell, world chief speaker, speaking from British Broadcasting Company studios in London.

A British Girl Scouts chorus sang "Happy Birthday" over the hook-up to American Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Henderson, along with high echelon Girl Scout leaders received a gold shoulder ribbon, new symbol of troop leadership. These designations will be worn by all area leaders under a program of recognition for their work.

The area council vice-president said that speakers stressed and reiterated the importance of leadership in Girl Scouting not only as valuable to the girls but also to the women who give their services in this work and productive endeavor.

Final action on regrouping or re-classification of Girl Scout packs must await national council approval, Mrs. Henderson advised.

Christmas Gift Problem? See A JA Co. Salesman

Looking for a Christmas gift for that someone who has everything? Granite City's Junior Achievers may have the answer to your problem.

Seventeen separate products, some of them especially appropriate to the Christmas season, are being manufactured and sold by the members of the 14 companies active at the local JA center, 2000 Madison avenue.

If it's a "Christmas" Christmas gift for which you're searching, three of the student firms are marketing products which should fit that purpose nicely.

Supreme Teens, counseled by the General Steel Castings Corp., has available Christmas candles, the big, multi-colored type, and centerpieces appropriate to the holiday season.

Eleven other student corporations, counseled by Dow Metal Products, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., American Steel Foundries, Lincoln Mercury, Illinois Power Co. and A.

Stylo student salesmen are offering a wrought iron utility rack while JA Dow of GC is manufacturing a magnetic ironing griddle. A toy product, called a ball swing, is being marketed here by Bell-Co.

Two products, a picture album and a ceramic trivet which sold very well last year, are available from members of JA-Prod. While another wrought iron item, this one a planter rack, can be ordered from members of the Amerco JA company.

Surfco has available a pretty cal item, packaged detergent, and the Junior Steelders, who are manufacturing a dust pan. Bell-Co is offering a weighted lid for frying meats.

With customer relaxation in mind, the L and M company is producing a foot stool. If you're planning any traveling by car, see the salesmen from the Liv-Wires, who have their company's product, an aluminum car clothes rack, available immediately.

Finally, the Gtaco JA firm offers an abstract wall decoration available in several types of wood and metal, plus a camping stool.

COUNTY HEALTH GROUP LEADERS EXPRESS THANKS

Dear Mr. Townsend:

This is an open letter of appreciation to all the very fine unselfish people who gave their time and effort to the support of the County Health Department Proposal.

To those who attended meetings, obtained petitions, offered assistance and especially your reporters who so diligently compiled and published information for publication — our sincere thanks.

In view of the fact that the Proposal was carried by a substantial majority vote in the Tri-City area, definitely indicates a pressing need for a Health Program. Please continue to urge and encourage an unbiased investigation of the advantages of a coordinated health department for our community.

Very sincerely yours,
F. D. KOCH, M.D.

GRAINITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Forum, Granite City Press-Record, Dear Corky:

If you want to, you may publish this letter. I shall keep it short and sweet.

This is to thank the voters of Madison county for their splendid performance Nov. 8 by defeating the proposition for a so-called county health department. Don't rest on your laurels though. Experience teaches us that the proponents of this scheme will come back. They don't give up so easily.

There are individuals and organizations with a very sensitive smell. When they feel a bulldog, they don't give up until they can sink their teeth into it and then don't let go, unless you shoot them. The state-sales-tax parking meters, bridge-fare and a lot of other thumb-screws they put on us under one pretext or another (mostly charitable) are still with us the taxpayers and are rather expanding than diminishing. It is time we put a stop to all this bond issues and weld our tax pockets shut for awhile so those people learn once to manage like you and I have to.

There will be no "yes" vote by

ELECTORAL SYSTEM FAVORED BY HEADLINE

Mr. C. E. Townsend, Editor, Granite City Press-Record, Granite City, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

I would not favor abolishment of the Electoral College, as Senator Mansfield suggests. However, the method does need reform, and general opinion feels that there is no time like the present to do something about it.

It certainly is not fair to award electoral votes to the big city precincts, when in the other less populated areas of the state; American citizens are voting just as conscientiously for the candidate of their choice. Unless our Electoral College uses the procedure as set forth in the Constitution of the United States of America—Article 2, Sections 2, 4, and 5 in the original document, and Article 12 in the Bill of Rights, then it is the right of any citizen to question both procedure and method.

For years, the electoral votes have been awarded to candidates before the popular vote was completely counted. This is legally wrong in my opinion. According to our Constitution, these electoral votes are to be held until the Electoral College meets and votes by sealed ballot.

These ballots are to be signed, certified, and sealed. They are to be transmitted to the President of the Senate. At that time, in the presence of all members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, they are to be opened and counted.

This, then, being the correct procedure, is it not illegal and unconstitutional to cast an electoral vote on election night before the popular and absentee ballots are counted?

Please correct this citizen, if I am wrong.

Sincerely,
MRS. LILLY P. CHABOUDE,
2865 Ralph St.,

Turkey Day Lull; Then The Christmas Buying Scamper

Star, bell and bauble decorated, the silvered drapery of Christmas cross-street lights are going up to garland the mid-town Granite City sector.

These heralds of the glad-soon holiday season will, turned on for the first time Thanksgiving eve — Wednesday night.

Then, after time-out Thursday for Thanksgiving observances in homes and at houses of worship, the Yuletide will be ushered in by merchants and shoppers as the so-many-shop-ping-days before Christmas count-down begins.

Not only will Granite City streets be in festive, Christ-mas dress, but likewise Madison avenue and Broadway as it stretches through Madison and Venice. And Mitchell, too, will join in the Christmas dress-up parade.

A reverential hush will envelope the Quad-Cities Thursday as for the Thanksgiving holiday, county, state and federal offices, stores, shops, financial institutions, service establishments, agents and in fact all forms of business will be closed.

The festive fowl — turkey, duck, goose and chicken — will be served up at family dinners and reunions, and worship services will be held in a number of churches.

Friday Luncheon Season

The Associated Retailers and Civic Association has fixed Friday as the launching date of the Yuletide season, and display

acter building of our youth. The high point of the ceremony was the presentation of a citation to the retiring District Chairman for the fine work performed. In accepting the retiring chairman owe me anything. I owe everything to Scouting. It was remarked: "Scouting does not freshen to hear these words. How many times do we hear (or complain) that the world owes me a living... that everyone gets the advantages but poor little me. No one understands me. No one loves me. No one cares for me. In fact, I am sure what I really am is familiar are these words. What is really said is:— "The world owes me a living."

Have we ever asked:—"Have I taken the time to love someone?" "Have I taken the time to be a friend?" "Have I taken the time to give?" "Have I taken the time to live?" "Do I owe life everything for the privileges I can share?" This is God's way of living. This is the Christian Way. The happy life is found in serving and giving. It is "How much do I owe?" Jesus once said:—"If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last and the servant of all." May God continue to bless you.

Missing Children Case Quickly Solved

A frantic mother notified Granite City police at 9:30 p.m. Thursday that when she returned home from shopping she discovered her children had disappeared.

Police rushed to the house in the 2100 block of Edison avenue and were met by the woman. She was hesitant in explaining the youngsters had been hiding under a bed.

Turkeys Up 3-5 Cents; Other Fowl, No Rise

Housewives in filling their Thanksgiving market baskets will have to pay from 3 to 5 cents more per pound for turkey than they did a year ago, according to area wholesalers.

Ducks, geese and chickens remain essentially at the 1959 price level, with capons in short supply and very much higher.

The capon market won't be fully supplied until Christmas, wholesalers noted, and meanwhile the price per pound is as much as 7 cents above that of last November.

Wholesalers reported that while prices do vary, the average per pound retail price for dressed spring chicken is 39 cents.

For the festive board, ducks and chickens outsell turkeys by a ratio of as much as 7 to 1, wholesalers noted. The demand for geese is low.

Dependent, naturally on the size of the family group, most housewives prefer the smaller 10 to 12 pound turkey for roasting.

Others, in the 16 to 18-pound bracket, are the next best sellers, and you can get a bird up to 35 pounds.

Daybreak Optimists, at their Saturday breakfast meeting at the YMCA, were urged to get out and help with the unloading.

The Daybreak service club, along with the Twilight and Noonday Optimists, are leagued in the sales promotion, a yearly project.

Daybreakers, in a salute to "Youth Appreciation" had sons and daughters as guests Saturday, heard a discussion on "The bus trees will spring up Saturday," and played host to two young "heros."

They are Clara Ann Takman and Nancy Jettett, who in a carburetor "rescue" last month were able to save the life of a suffocating infant through their knowledge of first aid and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

The Rev. Vernie Barnett of the Niedringhaus Memorial Methodist church, in his talk on leadership, stressed the necessity of having goals and a sense of direction.

He said in today's world it is requisite that one move forward, standing by principles despite opposing influences, and of relying on the power of God in preparing effective leadership.

Daybreak Optimists and their wives will join in a dinner at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 8, at Peir's cafe.

Funds already are being raised, and it is planned to package the gifts on Dec. 16, 17 and 19 at the Madison recreation center.

Distribution will take place Dec. 21 at the St. Mary's, Louis Baer, Madison junior high and Harris schools. Later that day, Santa Claus will give out treats to pre-school Madison youngsters at the recreation center, and police will take treats to homes north of the 1200 block.

Treats will be given out Dec. 24 at the West Madison recreation building and at the Harrison recreation center in Eagle Park Acres, with remaining packages given to the needy.

Preparations, Cooperation Must Accompany Creation of University

The warm response by local residents and officials during every step of the drive to establish a state university in the Sunset Hill bluff area affords assurance of continued cooperation as planning enters the final stages and construction work begins. There is hope that some of the buildings can be placed in use by the fall of 1963.

Between now and then, some problems are certain to be encountered. Discussions already have taken place on extending streets, sewers and other services in the urban area near the campus, and an Inter-Governmental Liaison Committee for Planning has been formed among agencies in Madison and St. Clair counties to coordinate planning and development.

Although much of the responsibility will be borne by the university staff and the state government, no doubt some challenges and opportunities will confront Quad-Cityans due to establishing of the university. An example is that additional housing numbering the thousands of units will have to be provided here, in Edwardsville and in neighboring cities. This in itself must be accompanied by expansion of utility and municipal services and by a corresponding commercial growth.

The full picture is not yet clear, but the pattern inevitably will point in the direction of progress. The tasks to be met will be pleasant ones for the university will contribute vastly toward the growth and prosperity of the Illinois Metropolitan Area.

White Way Lights Will Be A Welcome Present For Holidays

Extension of "white way" lighting along the entire distance of Madison avenue to Granite City will be a welcome Christmas present for the community, for it is important that streets, and particularly the principal thoroughfare of a city, be well lighted.

Proposed by the Illinois Power Co. and approved by the city, the new system of 20,000-lumen mercury vapor lights will contrast brilliantly with the present lights and will be placed on the lighting already in operation in Madison. With a Venice system likely to be added, the network should aid in limiting traffic accidents on the Quad-Cities' busiest street.

Christmas Seals Main Source Of Funds For X-Ray Survey

Now that the 54th annual distribution of Christmas seals has been started by the Madison County Tuberculosis Association, it might be well to note that this is the principal source of funds for the free x-ray survey conducted publicly and in industrial plants here and throughout the county each year.

Other services are performed, including research to aid people in avoiding tuberculosis. The survey itself has great importance. Of the 20,390 people x-rayed in 1960, 63 cases of tuberculosis were discovered, enabling treatment to be started.

County To Sell Surplus Court House Furniture

The court house committee of the Madison county board of supervisors will seek bids on surplus furniture to be sold at the court house after new equipment is installed in offices now being remodeled.

The furniture to be sold will come from the treasurer's and auditor's offices. Most of it will be desks and chairs, and possibly some filing cabinets.

Thanksgiving Should Not Be Lost In Early 'Countdown' For Christmas Season

Let's not trample Thanksgiving Day in the dust of the stampede to get underway with the Christmas season.

Thanksgiving has evolved as a day of family reunions; in the strengthening of hearthside ties and in the closer-knit of kinfolk and the younger and older generations.

It is deeply tinged with religious overtones as an occasion set aside for the enumeration of personal, family and community blessings for the giving of thanks—in houses of worship and in private prayer.

Let us be a day rich and enriched in the American tradition; ennobled in heritage and singularly a part of our holidays calendar.

Thanksgiving must not be by-passed, shunted aside or given second-position status as a kind of impediment in the pell mell dash into the Yuletide.

On many fronts there's chaffing-at-the-bit to bring in the Christmas season, the expense of Thanksgiving. Such over eagerness may prove a long-run detriment to the gladsome holidays themselves.

Let us take time out, let us pause quietly, reverently and thoughtfully in giving minds and hearts to the day of thanks giving. Let's not hurry it by.

One of these days the world may be peopled by saints, but the time has not yet arrived.

Medical Tags Can Ensure Special Care When Needed

To people who find it necessary to wear eyeglasses or hearing aids, the device becomes so familiar that they soon cease to be an inconvenience. Perhaps some day the practice of wearing a "medic-alert" bracelet or neck emblem will become so common that millions of people will not give it a second thought, donning it each day as a necessary item of apparel.

Such tags can give vital medical information to first-aid staffs or attending physicians when an individual is injured or becomes ill. Personal knowledge of physical condition affecting such care is not enough, for anyone can be suddenly rendered unconscious, preventing him from relaying what needs to be told.

If allergies and other medical conditions are known, treatment can be given accordingly. But when they are unknown, conventional treatment and medicines are utilized, with the reaction sometimes causing death needlessly.

Local individuals and groups interested in advancing this proposal have been invited to contact St. Elizabeth Hospital. A staff member there notes that "if a plan saves just one life or preserves one patient from having to suffer needlessly, it must be worthwhile."

Some of the truest things that we have heard come from the lips of children.

The majority rarely exercises its power in this country.

Postmasters Give Advice For Christmas Mailing

Faced with the possibility that the 1960 Christmas season will set an all time holiday mailing record, local postmasters announced today they are starting annual "Mail Early For Christmas" Campaign immediately.

The postmasters, Theodore Overbeck of Granite City, Harry Johnson of Madison and Charles Simmons of Venice, offer these helpful mailing tips to insure delivery of your Christmas cards and gifts on time.

"First, check your Christmas card list very carefully — make sure each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

"Second, for your Christmas gift packages, stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord, and paper adhesive tape.

"Remember that you can include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package by adding the appropriate first class postage to the package itself.

"Fourth, buy your postage stamps now. Don't wait until the last minute when long lines form at the stamp window.

SIU Speaker Talks On Problem Youths

The Noonday Optimist Thursday were hosts to the Granite City high school youths who manned city hall offices last Wednesday, and at the time heard a discussion of the problem of adolescence by a Southern Illinois University educator-philosopher.

The speaker was Prof. Ray T. Troyer of SIU's East St. Louis center, a member of the faculty of education and philosophy.

Guests were the young people who, as a feature of "Youth Action Week," occupied city office seats for an hour last week.

Mike Mundy, Casey Fredericks, Larry Diak, Phyllis Wallace, Janice Gardner, Myra Willard and Michael Melroy.

In his talk, Prof. Troyer outlined the several schools of thought and action regarding adolescents and the problem of juvenile delinquency.

He enumerated them as the "get tough" school and at the other end, the school of extreme permissiveness. He took a position somewhere midway between the two contending approaches.

Community leader and parent examples provide the younger generation with some of the most "dramatic" set of rules and regulations of conduct and personal relationships," the educator-philosopher contended.

He argued that basically, most youngsters are decent, law-abiding individuals, but as a group are getting a "black eye" due to the avalanche of publicity given to the extremists among them.

It is the pugnacious and antagonistic among them who make it difficult for the others he noted.

The service club's noon-hour luncheon was at the Elks' lodge.

Miss Joyce Baryls, Mike Sikora Wed At Sacred Heart

The Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Granite City was the scene of the wedding Saturday morning of Miss Joyce Baryls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baryls, 2645 East 27th street, and Mike Sikora Jr., whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sikora Sr., 807 Grand avenue, Madison.

Rev. John Barrett officiated at the wedding ceremony at ten thirty o'clock before an altar decorated with bouquets of white carnations.

During the ceremony, Edward Ashley, soloist, sang "Pania Angelicus," "Ave Maria," the Lord's prayer and "Morning at Thy Feet I Am Kneeling," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. George Cravshaw.

Mr. Baryls escorted his daughter down the white-carpeted aisle, giving her in marriage.

The bride chose a gown fashioned of bouquet taffeta with molded bodice and long sleeves. Embroidered Alencon lace adorned the portrait neckline and appliques of lace were featured on the voluminous skirt, which terminated in a chapel train. The bride's illusion veil was secured to an orange blossom crown.

The bridal bouquet was made up of daisy poms centered with a cluster of orchids.

Mrs. Thomas Taff, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, with Mrs. Thos. Dittich as bridesmaid. Miss Kim Ann Taff, a niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids dresses were street-length sheaths of aqua lace, with tulle overskirts fastened with lace bow accents. Their colonial bouquets of small nooms were interspersed with various shades of turquoise ribbons. Pearl tiaras were worn as headpieces.

The flower girl was given in turquoise velvet with an organically overskirt tucked in the back. A headband of matching velvet interspersed with lace was worn, and she carried a basket of rose petals.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baryls wore a pastel aqua jersey dress, using black accessories. Mrs. Sikora, the groom's mother, chose a cocoa brown lace dress with a satin cummerbund. Her accessories were brown. The mothers wore white orchid corsages.

The groom chose his brother John Sikora, as best man, with Tom Dittich as groomsman.

Scott Taff was the ringbearer. He is a nephew of the bride and a brother of the flower girl.

A wedding breakfast was served immediately after the ceremony at St. Mary's hall, which also was the scene of the reception held at 6:30 in the evening, with approximately 600 guests.

The newweds will reside in Granite City. The bride is employed as a secretary at Granite City Steel Co. The groom is a recent graduate of Southern Illinois University, is employed at the American Zinc Co. in Monmouth, Ill.

PTA Attendance Discussed By Area Council

A major Parent-Teacher Association problem, "How to increase attendance at PTA meetings," and possible solutions were discussed at a meeting of the Granite City Area Council of PTAs Thursday evening at Frohardt school.

Mrs. Doris Buer, program chairman, announced that it was the first in a series of programs to be held on improving PTA units' effectiveness in promoting children's welfare. Budgets and programs will be among the future discussion topics.

It was conducted by the delegates that PTA goals can best be achieved by securing as large an attendance as possible, both for educational topics and activity programs. Mrs. Mary Jones of Frohardt school presented a panel in reviewing the subject and a mock PTA meeting was presented to show common faults in conducting the meetings.

The gathering was divided into smaller groups for "buzz sessions." Results were decisions to urge friendliness and hospitality at PTA functions, to encourage members to contribute opinions and suggestions, and to seek to convey the proper image of PTA and its goals.

President Harry Wood presided, and delegates were reminded that resolutions must be forwarded to the Illinois PTA Congress by Dec. 15. PTA units wishing to aid the moral decency program may send contributions to Ed Wagner, Rural Route One.

An announcement was made that the annual appreciation dinner will be held Feb. 18, and PTA units were encouraged to choose nominees for a lifetime membership award to be given then.

The next Area PTA Council meeting was set for Jan. 26 at Niedringhaus school. Refreshments were served by the Frohardt PTA.

ENTERTAINS CLASS AT DINNER PARTY

Mrs. W. M. Taylor entertained her Sunday school class, the Taperettes, at a turkey dinner Sunday at Mt. Zion General Baptist Church, 21st and Benton streets.

The tables were decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season and 28 junior girls and Rev. and Mrs. Truman Collins and their son Eddie were seated.

The hostess was assisted by Miss Dorothy Moss, class secretary, and Mrs. Nora Clutter, Junior department superintendent.

GRANITE CITY ELKS' CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S program made possible surgical and remedial treatment insuring sight, the ability to speak and a better way of life for these three youngsters. While they remain anonymous, the infant held in the nurse's arms had a sight-restoring operation this month.

Elks Crippled Children Program Continues Benefits

For a richly-rewarding quarter-century Granite City Elks — through the instrumentality of their Crippled Children's program — have striven to exemplify the fraternal order's credo of "charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity."

Walter A. Reese, widely-known Quad-Cities druggist, is chairman of the program which through many services and avenues of cost-free medical and surgical care and treatment, rehabilitation and aides has gone forward under the aegis of Granite City's Lodge 1083.

The program in its operational set up as a private, fraternal order charity and the funds for its work derives solely from Elks' giving. No outside solicitation is made.

The Elks' project has won acknowledgement, recognition and grateful praise not only from hundreds of its youthful benefiting recipients and their families, but likewise from the community at large.

In 1958, a Civic Achievement plaque-citation went to the program.

4 Major Cases

During the current year, Chairman Reese disclosed today Elks Crippled Children's program funds were made available "for four major surgical cases in addition to providing special shoes and braces for crippled youngsters."

"In one case alone," he elaborated, "the cost to the Elks was $5000. The largest individual donation from a Brother Elks was $500."

Additionally, rehabilitation work has been carried on and the service extended in securing jobs for those able to work.

Reese was insistent in wanting no personal publicity, asserting that credits for the work be shared equally by all fraternalists whose giving makes possible the project.

Identities of those helped under the program remain anonymous.

Principles of Program

Predicated on the principles of "making the Quad-Cities a better place in which to live, to create advantages and to help those who may be afflicted," the 25-year work is projected under an informal type of basic rules. These, according to Chairman Reese, are:

(1) A crippled child or person must be sought for and recommended by a physician. (2) The patient's family must not be financially able to afford the treatment. (3) The cost must not bankrupt the fund but the money must be disbursed in a way to do the most good. (4) At no time is the patient permitted to reimburse the committee for the cost of their cases.

Names of patient recipients may be secured from the chairman by any member of the lodge, under the rules, but the care and services work is not carried forward for exploitation of either the individual or the fraternal order.

Chairman Reese added that the Elks of Lodge 1083 "support their own charity and no fees are charged for management or checking the worthy cases."

Among the worthy, deserving and otherwise needs who have been aided by the program is one who suffered a brain injury and an infant who had been hospitalized, off and on, during a year's period. He will start speech training this month.

Monies from the fund paid for a surgical removal of a cataract of the eyes of an infant.

THIS 16-FOOT HOOP NET is but one of about a half-hundred special-use nets woven, webbed and netted by William Nichols' enterprise. Nichols is shown with two of his riggers, Miss Cecelia Kocot, one of the oldest practitioners of the craft in the Midwest, and Miss Dorothy Del Vecchio (rear) both of East St. Louis. He fabricates nets for 38 state conservation departments and the federal wildlife and game service.

UP TO THEIR EARS IN NETS, Mr. and Mrs. William Nichols are shown in one of the rigging houses of the Nichols Bend road net-making firm. Nichols nets figuratively "cover the world," designed for such a multiplicity of uses as asylum restraints, dog catching, bird banding, baby cribs, golf drive backstops, sausage cooking, interior decorating and of course fishing and game catching.

It's A 'Netty' Business For Wm. Nichols, Who Nets Fish, Fowl, Apes, Starlings

To catch fish or fowl, similar or starting, antelope or alligator, William Nichols of Bend, Mo., road net-maker, is one of the world's most famous net-makers. He is a man who nets everything.

And from the Canary Islands to the Arctic circle, from the Andes to Liberia, from Montana to Mexico and reaching behind the Iron Curtain, his nets, seines, mesh traps and woven riggings have been brought into play. This country doesn't supply like quality at anything near the price, he says.

One of his "hottest" items, a spring steel frame dip net, used locally, Nichols tell you that order for this constitute a big item and says that the use of this seine device is almost wholly confined to waters of the Illinois-Missouri region of which the Quad-Cities are the heartland.

The bulging catalogue of special-purpose nets and webbed devices turned out by Nichols continues:

Decorative nets used in taverns, swank bar-rooms, department stores and homes; basketball backstops; golf practice drive nets; nets for trapping and handling migratory waterfowl and birds; nets used by game management men to catch deer and transfer deer antelope and other game to better feeding areas.

Night Clubs, Ballrooms. Night spots and ballrooms use Nichols nets, too. They are attached to the ceiling and hold inflated balloons which, at the drop of a cord are released in a great downpour of color.

"We make monkey trap nets to draw a crowd at the circus, zoos and circuses; in Montana, the state uses our nets to trap deer as well as antelope and in one unproductive feeding area, 27 deer were caught in our baffle nets in one night," the Quad-Cities netmaker tells.

In fact, and if this is a bona fide business, we're proud to make all of the duck trap nets used by 38 state conservation departments and by the federal Interior Department's fish and wildlife service.

Others of his nets and webbed traps have been used in capturing birds and wildlife for food.

Missionaries in Mongolia, Liberia, to augment and enrich the diet of undernourished natives, have used our nets to catch birds and small animals; but most of all of our nets in this wise are put to the tasks of banding birds, and for transferring herds to better feeding grounds," he related.

It is in the mass production of nets that Nichols is characterized as unusual utilization of nets he fabricated, the following might well be noted:

Nets For Hospitals
Nets used in mental hospitals as protective patient restraints; those used in maternity wards and homes to cover baby cribs; slaughter house and packing plants use nets as containers for holding sausage meats.

While some Nichols nets are used in lodge initiation rituals. Nature, his seine nets serve a multiplicity of uses in ocean and fresh water fishing and fish propagation.

"We make some nets for catalogue houses under our brand name, but most are made to order," Nichols explained. "There is the stretch mesh and the square mesh, and it is important that these specifications be met in making up orders."

The Shedd aquarium in Chicago is one of our customers; an oil company, as gifts, buys nets which it gives golfing customers for back-swing practice devices—don't have to chase balls—and then there's the cannon nets.

His nets have gone to Lithuania, behind the Iron Curtain, and in shipping them, he is under instruction to remove the leading used weighting the nets. Nichols has been told that the Russians, apparently hungry for lead, remove the attached lead balls before turning over the shipment to the Lithuanians.

His principal supplier is a Blue Mountain, Ala., thread-making concern, and in the fabrication of his nets he uses nylon, cotton and linen, along with ropes and Manila hemp. For the fishermen, he treats the material.

Lead is furnished by a St. Petersburg, Fla., firm, and the work performed by a corps of seven full-time and a number of part-time employees.

Yes, Nichols makes most every kind of nets excepting perhaps hair nets and the small dip nets used by trout fishermen. He is a specialist, and such like nets are made in wholesale.

Lack of Easement Delays Drainage Line
A delay in securing an easement over private property is holding up start of construction on trunk storm water drainage lines in the Glenview Subdivision area, according to Adair Kramer, engineer for the East Side Levee & Sanitary District.

Bids for the project were opened in September and the contract awarded to Joseph P. Feeley Co., East St. Louis, on a low figure of $88,509.

"Keely calls us at least twice a week and is anxious to get on the project," Kramer said, "but the easement is in the hands of an attorney and there is a disagreement over construction of a retaining wall at the place of private property."

To be constructed at 42 and 48-inch lines to drain water from existing Glenview area to the Namoli area, storm water drainage ditch. The present outlet has proven inadequate because of the rapid growth of the area.

Deaf-Mute Had Walked Away From Alton
Identity of the deaf-mute being held by Granite City police was determined twice about mid-afternoon Thursday when a notice was received from the bureau of identification at Washington, D. C., and Police Chief Raymond Willard, who was attending a county police association meeting in Beahato, was talking to a representative of the Alton State Hospital.

The Washington bureau, working with fingerprints taken by Granite City police and rushed to them, gave the man's name and where he was confined; and an inquiry by Police Chief Willard uncovered a "walk-away" by a deaf-mute from the Alton hospital.

The man, 38 years old, who refused to read or write or "talk" to a sign language expert from the Granite City Engineer's Dept., remained unidentified for nearly two days as local police attempted to secure information from state authorities on the possibility of a "walk-away" from any institution.

The deaf-mute was found at 15th and State streets about 6:30 a.m. Wednesday and his institution-type clothing, marked with two different names, was soaking wet from Tuesday night's rain. It was learned he walked away from Alton during a recreation hour.

Traffic Incident
Involved in a collision Thursday evening at 21st and Monroe streets were, auto driven by Harold R. Rochester, 46, of 2628 Madison avenue, who was going west on 21st street, and Patricia A. Worrell, 21, of 1644 Twenty-third street, who was traveling south on Monroe streets. No injured were reported.

Nearly 500 Youngsters Visit GC Library
Nearly 500 Granite City school youngsters visited the local public library to view displays and learn the functions of the library during National Children's Book Week observance last week.

Librarian Mrs. Mary Gene Koutin said the exact count showed 461 youngsters, mostly in classroom groups from schools, toured the facilities in addition to a number of adults.

"That's more than we've ever had before and we hope the trend increases," the librarian said.

She added that the record-breaking department at the library, installed only a short time ago, was becoming popular. "Right now," she said, "we have only four records left." The records are loaned to persons with hi-fi or stereo sets available.
